THE CENTRAL BUREAU FOR REGISTERED ADDRESSES

31 BROADWAY

NEW YORK, October 8, 1919.

To Cable Patrons:

On November 1, 1919, there will be established in New York City a Central Bureau for Registered Addresses. The Central Bureau will supersede the separate bureaus heretofore conducted by each of the several companies.

Commencing that date all applications for registered addresses will be referred to the Central Bureau which will record same with the several companies and assist patrons in all matters pertaining to registrations in this country.

The Central Bureau for the present will be located at No. 31 Broadway, and applications for registrations may be made directly to the Bureau at that address, or if made to the companies they will be referred to the Bureau.

The charge for the registration of a local address will be $2.50 per annum. All registrations will automatically expire twelve months from the date of registry and must be renewed. Thirty days prior to the expiration of any registration a formal notice will be sent by the Central Bureau in order that the subscription may be renewed if desired.

Upon receipt of this letter please forward to the Central Bureau verification of your existing selected address, which must be accompanied by a remittance to cover the registration for the succeeding twelve months.
